ARTISTIC INSPIRATION ON MIAMI BEACH

INTERIOR DESIGN AND ARCHITECTURE Brown Davis Interiors, Inc., Miami
PHOTOGRAPHY Moris Moreno

Known for their architectural, interior and landscape designs, this is the private residence of Robert Brown. Brown Davis has designed two residences for President and Secretary of State Clinton, The British Embassy residence and an array of exceptional south florida projects involving modern and classically traditional architectural design as well as historic renovations. The saturated hues, tropical landscape and design mecca of Miami have influenced a bold aesthetic that resists conformity. It is instead a uniquely American perspective, fusing the traditional roots of classicism, with an international, modern, sensual vitality.

The home is located at the iconic 1111 Lincoln Road complex by Herzog and de Meuron in South Beach, Florida. Rob designed this home to feature his art collection and create a sophisticated urban living environment. The home is privately located adjacent to Lincoln Road and features a central atrium with walls of sliding glass. Artists featured in this residence include, Andy Warhol, Yves Klein, Jason Martin, Russel Crotti, Iran Issa Kahn, Eric Goulder, Rubem Robierb

The architecture of ten foot ceilings, large rooms, terrazzo floors throughout and walls of sliding glass doors that provide abundant light throughout the day are what initially attracted Rob to this space. The central atrium opens to the Master Bedroom, Dining Room, Kitchen and Living Room. One of Rob's passions is landscaping and he has created a tranquil garden as the center of the house. A focal point of the Living Room is the vintage sofa by Vladimir Kagan. Rob considered this the perfect setting for his bespoke furnishings and art collection.

- CONTINUED ON NEXT PAGE -

An original vintage brass Italian Dining table, artwork by Andy Warhol and Iran Issa Khan as well as the Milo Baughman chairs and vintage chrome Italian chandelier create a fantastical setting for group dining. The vintage chrome dining chairs are covered in angora for a touch of whimsy. The colorful piece of an orangutang by Warhol is from his 1983 endangered species series. The eclectic elements making up this Dining Room create an exciting and thought provoking space. The floor plan allows the Dining Room to open completely to the atrium for perfect indoor/outdoor entertainment as well as the Kitchen and bar.

The Master Bathroom (RIGHT PAGE) is a serene retreat with an abundance of natural light streaming through the sky lights. The black and white photograph is by Rubem Robierb. The floors are white terrazzo and the shower walls are Carrara marble. The bathroom features dual sinks and dual showers.

The Master Bedroom also completely opens to the atrium. To add a sense of being at the beach, Rob placed a xoxo black and white surf board (he found in Hawaii) over the upholstered and tufted bed. Vintage Kips Stewart chairs covered in brown suede add comfortable seating to the room. The large red painting by Jason Martin adds a moody, sexy vibe to the room. Brown Davis has made Miami their home base and are constantly inspired by the high energy international city that Miami has become.

The large red painting by Jason Martin adds a moody, sexy vibe to the room.

The fully enclosed atrium features three walls of sliding glass doors that open to the Living Room, Dining Room/Kitchen and the Master Bedroom. There is a water feature that provides the site and sound of constantly running water over pebbles. The patio layout offers an informal seating area. In addition to architecture and interiors design Robert Brown created the beautiful and tranquil landscape for this atrium.

ELEGANCE IS AN UNDERSTATEMENT.

INTERIOR DECORATING
Goode Interiors, Inc.
Designer, Sherri Goode
Plantation, FL, 954-701-6149

This living room had to be spectacular, says Goode! It is the first impression you get of this gorgeous house when entering. The views are spectacular from every room. A myriad of finishes were used to create a unique look throughout the interior.

A custom built-in wall unit features high-end collectables and is the main focus of the space. The custom seating allows for great entertaining in both comfort and style. The hand woven silk abstract rug provides a great contrast to the space while the custom motorized sheers allows for a beautiful backdrop when viewing the outdoors.

This "breakfast" area was a very important space in this project. It is used as the main eating area for all meals. An "Elegant" theme was carried throughout this open floor plan. The Fine Art Chandelier sparkled beautifully in this space and complemented the crackled glass table top and polished chrome Swaim base. The Italian tufted chairs added an incredible flare to this setting while maintaining a feeling of elegance. Mirrored mosaic was installed in the niche to enhance the art.

The "kitchen" flowed beautifully off of the family room and breakfast area. Two high-gloss Lux Italian cabinetry finishes were used to break up the space as well as a combination of two different quartzites. The backsplash and bar face was done in glass mosaic tiles. The waterfall edge created a wonderfully dramatic feel to the bar.

The final touch was created by adding the bar pendant lighting, which was comprised of polished chrome and frosted glass.

This home is an exemplary model of elegant design while exuding a cozy ambience for the family, which is what Goode is known for.

INTERIOR DESIGN
Perla Lichi, Coral Springs

PHOTOGRAPHY
Barry Grossman

Courvoisier Courts Condos on Brickell Key Bayfront in Miami enjoy panoramic views from well-placed windows. The clients wanted to take full advantage of these views and they wanted a modern look, but also told us that they love color. They most definitely did not want an all white or monochromatic color scheme. After learning more about their personal preferences, we decided together on a palette consisting of various hues and shades of blues and greens. These colors are combined in upholstery fabrics, pillows, rugs and accessories in the living room of this Miami high-rise. A horizontal blue, green and gold upholstered cornice at ceiling level and side panels in deep blue with gold lining artfully frame the water view.

A faux painted blue feature wall introduces a subtle yet interesting texture. The chartreuse green circular area rug is layered with an irregularly shaped white shag rug with a dark square highlight within another circle.

Faux painted squares line up horizontally along the feature wall. The dining room continues the blue-green theme in furnishings and accessories that was established in the living room. Beige upholstered contemporary dining chairs are punched with a chartreuse button in front and a black button on the back. The round beveled glass table sits on a sleek stainless-steel base. Decorative accessories include glass vases, a framed painting of a vase, and a multicolor dining table centerpiece.

Dark blue carpeting flows through the major living spaces of this unit, including the master bedroom. A burnt gold pleated bed skirt provides good contrast against the cheerful blue bedspread and green, gold and grey draperies. All the colors are picked up in the decorative pillows on the bed. Another stunning cornice board upholstered in a slanted wide stripe design, crowns the window and frames the view. A light aqua faux painted feature wall provides nice contrast against the upholstered burnt gold headboard. Matching metallic silver end tables flank the headboard.

A variation of the faux painted squares used in the dining room feature wall adorns the master bath walls. These squares are smaller and were placed randomly at a playful angle. The designer added colorful purple rolled towels and a tall, thin, clear crystal vase to complement the vanity countertop. Cabinets and fixtures are white. -THE END -
