INTERNATIONALLY KNOWN ARTIST IS TURNING HOMES INTO GORGEOUS GALLERIES!

Introducing Orna Amrani, a notable cultural human sculpture artist has gained recognition for her innovative, three dimensional original creations which are on exhibit in galleries all over the United States and abroad. She is well known, particularly among the art community for her original works, which have received top awards.

ART IS IN HER GENES.

Orrna's artistic developments started at a young age. She was born in Haifa, Israel, to artistic parents; her mother created beautiful drawings and sketches and her father, in his spare time, sculpted with hard materials, including bronze and other metals, transferring his talents to Orna. After graduating from high school, she studied art at the University of Haifa and served in the Israeli Air Force.

AN EYE FOR COLOR AND DECOR

What makes her talent so attractive to homeowners is her eye for color and coordinating her paintings and sculptures with a home's interior, making a house something to be proud of.

ART CUSTOMIZED FOR HER CLIENTS!

What's best is that she creates art and customizes every project according to her clients' tastes, style, and needs. In short, she turns a house into a home that reflects her clients' personalities and specific tastes in art and decor.

SHADES OF BLUE

INTERIOR DESIGN Migena Gace
ASID Interior Designer,
M Design Studio, Naples, Florida

ARCHITECT Adrian Karapici, AIA,
NCARB, Naples, Florida

When we were first asked to take a look at this house for our clients before they decided to purchase it we didn't know what to expect. The house needed a lot of work but the "good bones" were there. The spaces had very tall ceilings, large windows that allowed a lot of light and views through-out the house and a beautiful curved staircase leading to a partial second floor. It was a text book description of what we designers call: "A diamond in the rough".

The house located in the Quail Creek Community in Naples Florida, overlooking the magnificent 17-th fairway had never seen an update since it was built 25 years ago. We were very lucky to have had a great couple as client which we became friend at the end.

They made the process fun from the beginning. Their main goal was to renovate the house into a fun space to celebrate and entertain family and friends. With a lot of family visiting from Michigan and West Palm Beach they wanted to create separate spaces for everyone to feel comfortable but also feel that they were all together.

Their goal was to live in a house that was light and airy and decor didn't compete with the golf views surrounding the house. We decided to go with shades of blues on creating the color scheme and decor of interiors

Views, Views and more Views. Light Sheers and recessed shades were incorporated in all the bedrooms windows to allow the views not to be interrupted. All the dark stained millwork, was painted in high gloss finish paint. Nana doors were installed on the golf side to make the walls disappear and letting the outside come in.

All the Furnishings were selected to complement the space and not overpower it. Simple lines and neutral fabrics were used through out the interiors. The goal was to create comfortable, casual spaces that look luxurious. The moment you walk in the house we wanted to create the feeling of embracing a fresh breath of air.

FRESH CONTEMPORARY TOUCHES IN A BOCA CONDOMINIUM

DESIGNER Toby Zack Designs
Phone (954) 967-8629
PHOTOGRAPHY Joe Lapayra

With clean lines and an uncluttered look this Boca Raton condominium reflects a Philadelphia couple's desire for an easy to live, uncomplicated getaway. The owners wanted a sleek contemporary look that was achieved beautifully. The owners want fitted Toby's palate perfectly. Toby's signature, classic modern approach keeps things open and uncomplicated. The flooring is honed limestone in large squares for colored walls and fabrics are contrasted with the liberal use of mahogany furnishings including a console in the foyer and an Antoine Proulx table with A. Rudin chairs in the Dining Area. Tone on tone fabric on the chairs and subtle pattern.

The master Bedroom is done in a change of color and style. The owner wanted a more traditional look. The custom bed with light blue silk head and footboards accentuates the light blue walls. A chaise with BrunschwigFils fabric matches the draperies Toby's favorite room is the Den. Cream walls transition to chocolate brown. Deliciously wrapped in glass cloth wall covering the Den became a space of comfort and style. Toby selected custom low-set wood cabinets with stainless steel trim for style, storage buffet space. The result of Toby's work created a spectacular home for the owners. They now enjoy more than half a year here.

ORGANIC LUXURY AT ST. ANDREWS

INTERIOR DESIGNER Olga Adler, Olga Adler Interiors, Delray Beach
(561) 617-0725

When her clients purchased this new construction estate home at the prestigious St. Andrew’s Country Club in Boca Raton, they gave Olga Adler just a few months to transform the empty space into a warm and functional family home. The designer was tasked with combining some of her clients’ existing possessions with new purchases and custom creations, to create space that feels both familiar and exciting.

Known for her use of striking light fixtures and original artwork, Adler designed custom clean-lined furniture and used mostly solid neutral textiles to allow the colorful art and dramatic lighting do most of the talking. To accommodate adults as well as kids and pets, Adler chose performance fabrics and natural wool and silk rugs for a luxurious, casual and worry-free lifestyle.

In the formal living room, the custom sofa, chairs and 2 twin ottomans seat eight. The colorful art stands out against the neutral palette of white walls and light gray polished marble floors. An oversized console table houses an impressive and eclectic collection of decorative objects found over the years, while the wall of windows overlooks the beautiful patio and grounds.

In the dining room, a unique woven rattan base holds a round glass top allowing the spectacular design to shine. Custom Parsons chairs are upholstered in performance linen. A vintage-inspired sideboard fashioned after a travel trunk offers ample space for buffet-style dining. The space is illuminated by a spectacular chandelier adorned by hundreds of glass drops suspended from an organic bronze frame, creating a truly magical feel.

The house is set on a private lot allowing for beautiful views of carefully selected plantings without the need for elaborate window coverings. As in other rooms, original art sets the stage for fascinating dinner time conversations.

In the master bedroom it’s all about luxury and comfort starting with the bed layered in silks and velvet for a cloud-like feel, and the softer-than-butter custom hand woven rug assuring a gentle bare foot experience. Beautiful blush pink photograph placed over the bed, complements the soft color palette of cream, violet and mauve set against dark chocolate modern rattan furniture. A touch of animal print on the ottoman adds a bit of excitement to an otherwise delicate scheme. A cozy reading nook was made for taking in the morning light and views of the golf course.

“Without comfort, there is no luxury” says Adler, and “good design should feed all the senses, be not only a visual journey but also a highly tactile experience, full of textural interest. - THE END -

SOCIALIZE WITH FRIENDS & FAMILY, THE SAFE AND LUXURIOUS WAY...

LOOK INTO INVESTING IN YOUR BACKYARD PATIO

A vacation spent in one's home country rather than abroad, or one spent at home is a staycation. And with this seemingly endless pandemic, staycations offer a higher quality of life and lots of quality time with those you love...in safety! Jeff Bender, owner of Sunniland Patio Furniture, is enjoying a surge of business from those seeking to build their sacred little space in the back of their homes to enjoy life with friends and family. His selection of high quality patio furniture is well appreciated and offers homeowners a "sense of normalcy," says Bender.

For many people, the summer of 2020 has been like no other in recent memory. Public health restrictions caused by the coronavirus disease 2019 (COVID-19) pandemic have led to cancelled festivals, concerts and other events. Many vacations and large celebrations have been limited or put on hold, which makes enjoying an outdoor patio set ever so much more in need, socially and emotionally. Outdoor leisure time has become an emotional rescue as evince by the changes in local restaurant dining protocols. Most restaurants now offer patio dining for safe dining pleasure. And Jeff Bender, owner of Sunniland, believes in the same concept. "Why give up fun time with close friends and family when you can transform your backyard into an outdoor space where dining and good conversation can make these times feel normal," says Bender.

Sunniland proudly offers many well known high quality brands of furniture such as Lloyd Flander's Hamptons Collection and Aruba II Collection to name just a few, made in the USA. So why not treat your family and friends to a well-deserved gathering by turning your backyard and pool area into a veritable oasis. Pay a visit to Sunniland the first chance you get. It promises to be a breath of fresh air!

Sunniland is located at 6101 N Federal Hwy, Boca Raton, and closes at 5:30 daily. (561) 997-7114 (see their ad on the back page)
